

Bear These Sensible Gifts In Mind

We stock practical gifts only. In selecting our Holiday Goods we pass over the trinkets and trifles

In this age of common sense people seek mostly those things which are useful as well as ornamental and such items are represented here in rare assortment and immense quality. Our Holiday Line is comprised mostly of staple goods—articles that may be found here the year round. Of course, our stock is marked by higher quality, as people usually want something a little better for gift purposes than for personal use, but the lower priced goods are here for those who prefer them.
